Network Migration in Europe organizes a transnational European Training on human rights in the context of migration and minorities in multicultural societies. The European Forum is devoted to an active dialogue and study about European multicultural and interethnic experiences and relations in past and present. We invite applications from advanced students, young professionals and multipliers with interest in training, discussion and project work.

During the European Forum Program in Berlin the participants will be offered six days of training and site visits on the topic of how European societies deal with migration and integration.

The participation in the training seminar requires:

1. Preparation work with the training seminar reader
2. Active (research) team work during the seminar
3. Elaboration of a follow-up research paper or essay

At the end of the seminar a certificate will be given for successful participation. Participants can use the knowledge and experiences gained during the training seminar in their community work, their further education and their career paths in non-profit sector, in school teaching and youth work, in media and the private sector.

Good active and passive command of English is mandatory. The European Forum looks for participants who are at ease with intense, constant group activities and interaction.

Travel expenses up to 30 € have to be paid by the participants, additional costs are covered by Network Migration.

Costs and expenses for accommodation and food are covered.
